

Are there seats in the class I want?

The best way to find out if there are seats in a class is to access the application program for your student category, complete your student profile, and then click on Prepare Application, Apply for Training, or words to that effect. Each service has a different label. Below is a sample from the DoD application program.

The image displays two screenshots of the ACQTAS (Acquisition Training Application System) web application. The first screenshot shows the main menu with a sidebar on the left containing various functions. A red circle highlights the 'Apply for Training' link, with a callout '1' pointing to it. A yellow cloud-shaped callout points to the 'Click Here for Continuous Learning Instructions' link, and a yellow rectangular callout points to the 'Click Here to Register for Ethics Training' link. A large red box labeled '2' is positioned over the right side of the first screenshot, containing the text 'Identify the course you want'. The second screenshot shows the 'Search for A Course' page. A red box labeled '3' is positioned over the 'Search' button at the bottom of the page, with an arrow pointing to it. A red box labeled '4' is positioned at the bottom left of the image, containing the text 'Go to next slide'. The interface includes a navigation menu, a main content area with instructions, and a footer with various links and a logoff button.

1 Apply for Training

2 Identify the course you want

3 Search for classes of that course

4 Go to next slide

Are there seats in the class I want?

These columns tell you how many seats are available and how many waits are already in the system.
